English

Lockdown has been going on for a long time. This week we'd like you to write a letter so Mrs Dowkes White and Mr Rawlinson can see what you have been doing.

Today, we'd like you to plan your reply to Mr Rawlinson's letter. You could use this table to help you plan, but if you want to plan your letter another way that is fine.

	What happened?	How did it make you feel?	Extra details.
Mr Rawlinson's example (for second best thing)	One day, I made a fishing game out of recycling as a lockdown challenge	Happy. It was really fun.	It went on the school twitter feed.

Movement Skills.

Warm up- try and come up with as many different ways of moving as you can. Try and keep balanced as you move and make sure your arms and legs are doing what you want them to do.

Obstacle Course- make an obstacle course and use some of your favourite movements from the warm up to get round it. Use more objects and put them closer together if you find your course too easy. Take some away and move them further apart if it is too hard.

Game- play with a sibling or carer. One player tucks a long sock or something similar into the top of their shorts or trousers and the other person has to try and grab it.

If you have already done this you can progress the lesson by repeating the warm up, rebuilding your obstacle course, but adding on an extra part that will make it harder than last time and adding in a new rule of your choice for the game e.g. players can only hop instead of run.
